Background

Abdominal Emergencies can be minor or life threatening and trauma or non trauma. But the main problem is how we manage them, with surgery or with conservative management. Abdominal emergencies can be found in our daily routine in emergency ward and it is one of the condition that we found difficult to diagnose. With the pathology of these condition elucidated, the management of abdominal emergencies is evolving. Now, in 21st century, perhaps the hospital, emergency room, radiology imaging is ready for abdominal emergencies, but, practically, nothing has changed; we who are bound to provide a "best" management plan and execute it

Aiming in better management plans for abdominal emergencies, especially in surgical approach, Digestive Surgery Division Departement of Surgery Faculty of Medicine University of Sam Ratulangi is about to held symposium and workshop Abdominal Emergency Surgery. At this moment, together we head to better approach in managing abdominal emergencies and share with one another about all abdominal emergencies cases that we've experienced.
